THE PROUD YOUNG MOTHER: "HE MAY BE PRESIDENT YET!"

NANNY AND JACK.

By H. C. Bunner.

Her uncle gave little Nanny
A Jack-in-the-box with a squeak;
But the squeak of the Jack was nothing
To Nanny's terrified shriek.

But soon she conquered her terrors,
And spoke, like a brave little tot.
"You think you are real," said Nanny;
"But, truly, you know you 're not!"
